THE FIRST SIX QUIRKY NOVELS OF THE WINDY MOUNTAIN SERIES

---

John Martin If the Tasmanian Tiger really is extinct, how come it won't go away in this bundle of six amusing novels? 1. LIE OF THE TIGER Windy Mountain is a one-dog town because of a law the mayor rammed through years ago. But it's a law two funny old men will need to break. When a frighteningly familiar Irishman arrives to take charge of the Tasmanian Tiger Museum, he discovers the last manager left the building in a coffin - and the owners really don't want him to succeed anyway. So if Oodles and Wish-Wash can't help him, Paddy is on a hiding to nothing. 2. BLOKES ON A PLANE When the nasty old mayor disappears, someone starts stealing local landmarks from the quirky little town, and no one else seems to be overly concerned, two old men go from being unlikely tourists to unlikely sleuths. Enter the walkie-talkies and cow-camouflage trousers. Octogenarians Oodles and Wish-Wash would normally be the last people to worry the former mayor is missing. Especially not now when they are busy planning an overseas trip to explore family history sparked by a DNA test. 3. WHITEY AND THE SIX DWARFS Even when they're not there, the old men are complicating things. Find out how in this funny whodunnit. Oodles, Wish-Wash and The Mayor have gone to Ireland to research family history, and have washed their hands of the Tasmanian Tiger Museum. But the new owners are thrown into a puzzle after a garden ornament goes missing. The clues include a skeleton, a chess set, and a concrete marsupial with a secret pouch. The old men are no help. In fact, their emails just muddy the waters. 4. BLOKES IN DONEGAL St Patrick might have been so busy chasing snakes that he overlooked banishing Tasmanian Tigers from Ireland. This might explain how one ends up under the kitchen sink in the fourth book of the Windy Mountain series, which is more crazy mystery than cozy mystery. The three old men think they are flying to Donegal to trace family history and to inherit a castle. It ends in laughs and tears. Who knew Donegal has quirky characters, too? 5. BLOKES IN THE HOUSE Nobody warned the three old men that hitmen and Tasmanian Tigers were going into lockdown with them! The former mayor is 82, and not on speaking terms with the former town drunk, 83, and one of his former council employees, 85. So when they're forced to isolate in a small house together for three months to stay safe from the pandemic, there is bound to be friction. But while the old mayor resigns himself to a future of face masks, hand-sanitiser and a life of much less luxury than he is used to in the company of two buffoons he didn't even want to see again, he gets some very unpleasant surprises 6. WHO KNEW TIGER SHARKS ALSO EAT APPLES? When someone threatens to spoil Christmas by demolishing the town's Art Deco cafe, it's time to take sides. The proposed replacement is an ugly commercial building that would tower over the district. More crazy mystery than cozy mystery, the quiriness of this funny series goes to a new level when a Tiger Shark surfaces. The three old men are at each other's throats yet again, this time over the proposed development. But they have a new umpire. He is someone who has earned an infamous reputation in Windy Mountain before, but he returns in a surprising new role.

FIX HER UP

A NOVEL

---

HarperCollins "Fix Her Up ticks all my romance boxes. Not only is it hilarious, it's sweet, endearing, heartwarming and downright sexy. It's a recipe for the perfect love story." - Helena Hunting, New York Times bestselling author of Meet Cute A steamy, hilarious new romantic comedy from New York Times bestselling author Tessa Bailey, perfect for fans of Christina Lauren and Sally Thorne! Georgette Castle's family runs the best home renovation business in town, but she picked balloons instead of blueprints and they haven't taken her seriously since. Frankly, she's over it. Georgie loves planning children's birthday parties and making people laugh, just not at her own expense. She's determined to fix herself up into a Woman of the World... whatever that means. Phase one: new framework for her business (a website from this decade, perhaps?) Phase two: a gut-reno on her wardrobe (fyi, leggings are pants.) Phase three: updates to her exterior (do people still wax?) Phase four: put herself on the market (and stop crushing on Travis Ford!) Living her best life means facing the truth: Georgie hasn't been on a date since, well, ever. Nobody's asking the town clown out for a night of hot sex, that's for sure. Maybe if people think she's having a steamy love affair, they'll acknowledge she's not just the "little sister" who paints faces for a living. And who better to help demolish that image than the resident sports star and tabloid favorite. Travis Ford was major league baseball's hottest rookie when an injury ended his career. Now he's flipping houses to keep busy and trying to forget his glory days. But he can't even cross the street without someone recapping his greatest hits. Or making a joke about his... bat. And then there's Georgie, his best friend's sister, who is not a kid anymore. When she proposes a wild scheme—that they pretend to date, to shock her family and help him land a new job—he agrees. What's the harm? It's not like it's real. But the girl Travis used to tease is now a funny, full-of-life woman and there's nothing fake about how much he wants her...

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF AMERICAN SHORT FILMS, 1926-1959

McFarland Short subject films have a long history in American cinemas. These could be anywhere from 2 to 40 minutes long and were used as a "filler" in a picture show that would include a cartoon, a newsreel, possibly a serial and a short before launching into the feature film. Shorts could tackle any topic of interest: an unusual travelogue, a comedy, musical revues, sports, nature or popular vaudeville acts. With the advent of sound-on-film in the mid-to-late 1920s, makers of earlier silent short subjects began experimenting with the short films, using them as a testing ground for the use of sound in feature movies. After the Second World War, and the rising popularity of television, short subject films became far too expensive to produce and they had mostly disappeared from the screens by the late 1950s. This encyclopedia offers comprehensive listings of American short subject films from the 1920s through the 1950s.
