Often, when things are not working well for parents with their children, they will continue doing the same things, yet with ever more vigor. Usually, the result will be more of the same, only worse. A secret to understanding the dynamics of many human behaviors lies in the paradox of the Chinese Finger Puzzle (aka: Chinese Handcuff). The Chinese finger puzzle is a tube woven from bamboo shoots that is several inches long and about the diameter of a person's fingers; true to its nature, the tube will narrow as its ends are pulled. Thus, when the tube is slipped over the ends of fingers or thumbs on opposing hands, the subject's efforts to pull his or her fingers apart are met with increasing resistance from the device. So it is with much of being human. The thing that people wish to avoid most is the very thing that results from their efforts to do so. Dynamics is a book written with this paradox in mind. It is a book of insights about parenting that turns upside down many of the things that are currently held dear in "traditional" parenting efforts. It is a book that downplays the use of punishment, but never overlooks the need for discipline and responsibility. Dynamics encourages parents to think about what they are doing, how they are doing it, and what are they are experiencing as a result, then provides useful tools for changing undesired outcomes. It is a book that can produce positive results that will benefit generations yet unborn. Verbal Aikido: The Gentle Art of Blending Then Redirecting Lulu.com Many of the techniques in this manual comes from Verbal Judo: The Gentle Art of Persuasion, a series of techniques designed by Dr. George J. This book suggests we can teach children how to think for themselves and learn to be rewarded with acceptance as a consequence of their contribution rather than needing acceptance and conforming. Dr. Medhus offers changes in language and parent/child communication that are simple to implement and continue to use. The results are immediately gratifying--many who have made these changes say they see profound effects in their children and their families within two weeks. Once these harmful phrases and their effects are exposed for what they really are, they're easy to eliminate from our daily dialogue. HEARING IS BELIEVING offers better and more empowering alternatives for each phrase, as well as stories that illustrate the results. Parents will be rewarded with a fulfilling and harmonious relationship with all children. Toughest People to Love How to Understand, Lead, and Love the Difficult People in Your Life -- Including Yourself Wm. infants go unnoticed or unmet. Consequently, children who are victims of early neglect or trauma are at grave risk. The candid stories in Broken Spirits~Lost Souls, told by parents of disturbed youngsters, paint a clear picture of their chilling, dangerous behavior. Attachment disorder may be demonstrated by out-of-control children as young as three years old. By their teens, these kids predictably defy authority and challenge every accepted familial and societal norm. At their best, individuals with RAD represent the embryonic stages of an antisocial personality, at their worst they are full-blown psychopaths consumed by the search for another victim. The Love and Logic Journal Tenth Anniversary Collection Love & Logic Press In 1985 my brother, Larry, suggested the Love and Logic Journal. I was uncomfortable with writing articles for a new publication on a regular basis. I told him that I would soon run out of information and writing material. The Journal was created over my protests and concerns. Much to my amazement the articles have continued to flow through my fingers, into the computer, and on to the pages. This has gone on for ten years now and I am still a long way from running out of material. Parents and Teachers have continued to present new questions. Children have continued to present new challenges. Our research and creativity have continued to meet the challenge with new solutions. Since we started producing the Love and Logic Journal, Foster W. Cline, M.D. and I have written over a hundred articles. This book is a collection of the first ten years worth of articles from our quarterly publication. Win-Win Parenting How to Raise Happy Kids Easily Dog Ear Publishing MaryLynne White has a Master's degree in early childhood and family development.
