The contributors introduce multicultural concepts and ideas from the Chinese Taoist, Confucian and Neo-Confucian, Indian and East Asian Buddhist, and Hindu traditions, focusing on such areas of moral controversy as the clash between women's rights and culture; universal human rights; abortion and euthanasia in a non-Western setting; and the standardization of medical practice across cultures.

Challenging Reflections on the Christian Life

Rethinking the Common Experience

WestBow Press When is the last time you • were discouraged in your relationship with God? • were distracted by a crying infant during a church service? • shared the gospel with an unbeliever? • heard someone say they 'rededicated' their life to Christ? • heard an intense conversation about sports among Christian men? • were equipped by your pastor to present and defend the gospel? If your experience is similar to most Christians, you have probably never spent much time reflecting on the issues above as they pertain to the seriousness of the Christian life. Challenging Reflections on the Christian Life covers topics that include raising children 'in the church,' evangelism, apologetics, men and sports, the concept of 'rededication,' the pastor's primary responsibility, infants in the sanctuary, knowing God, and much more. This book is designed to encourage you to give deep contemplation to the all-too-common experiences encountered in the Christian life and lead you to an awakened sense of reverence for God and passion for the truth. Whether you are a new Christian or a seasoned pastor, this book will cause you to rethink much of what you see in your life and in your church. "This book is inspiring, encouraging, and challenging. The author carefully and faithfully handles the Scriptures and applies them to our lives. Every Christian will profit from reading this book." Reflections on the Qur'an

Commentaries on Selected Verses

Tughra Books The Qur'an is believed by Muslims to be the final word of God revealed to humanity through Prophet Muhammad speaking to all humans for all times. This nature of Islam's holy book brings along a continuous study of it so that its injunctions are reinterpreted according to constantly changing times and conditions of our world. This book presents such interpretations from a respected Muslim scholar who explains verses for the modern age. Gülen is well-informed of the classical exegetical discipline; nevertheless in this book he keeps his explanations short and to the point, not to tire away readers. The book does not cover all the verses of the Qur'an, but selected ones, those relate most to the human existence on earth, life after death, and stories revealed in the holy book

The Life of Love: An Invitation: Fifty-two Reflections on Emotional and Spiritual Healing

Lulu.com Is love the place where psychological observation and spiritual wisdom about healing meet? If love is associated with healing of all sorts, how do I more consciously set about to grow in love, seeking healing for myself and for my neighbours, community and world? How do I encourage others in their journeys into love? Drawing on a broad Christian heritage, a deep respect for the insights of other religious and spiritual traditions and two decades of work in welfare and clinical settings, psychologist Sharon Southwell encourages spiritual seekers of all backgrounds to consider these questions for themselves. Structured in 52 Reflections, each followed by 'Invitations', The Life of Love invites you to grow in love by embracing life-giving connection to yourself, to others, your community, to art, nature and to your ultimate context, whether you experience this as God or as some other immanent or transcendent spiritual connection.

Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals

Theology, Human Flourishing and Freedom

Routledge Contemporary thought is marked by heated debates about the character, purpose and form of religious thinking and its relation to a range of ideals: spiritual, moral, aesthetic, political and ecological, to name the obvious. This book addresses the interrelation between theological thinking and the complex and diverse realms of human ideals. What are the ideals appropriate to our moment in human history, and how do these ideals derive from or relate to theological reflection in our time? In Theological Reflection and the Pursuit of Ideals internationally renowned scholars from a range of disciplines (physics, art, literary studies, ethics, comparative religion, history of ideas, and theology) engage with these crucial questions with the intention of articulating a new and historically appropriate vision of theological reflection and the pursuit of ideals for our global times.

Reflections

Seven Categories of Thought for Today's Christians

Wipf and Stock Publishers Reflections is a theological guide for today's Christians seeking a fuller appreciation of religious faith than is represented in populist religion. The seven categories and their chapters are designed to provide the reader with an intensive study on neglected, but imperative concepts for faith. Subjects of vital importance to both theology and humanity are explored with a flowing continuity of understanding God and the world. Reflections begins with the concept of revelation and its relation to monotheism and conviction. The chapters that follow are titled "Religion Is," "Christianity Is," and "Intelligent Spirituality"; these set the foundation for the rest of the book. The sense of moderns is that they are immune to the primitive concept of idolatry. Under the category of "Perennial Idols," Garner dismantles the idolatry that plagues humanity in every generation. Reality and its creation is a category of theological thought that is essential for Christian development and sorrowfully neglected in church education. The other categories are "Sex and Romantic Love," "Popular Myths," "Being Human / Being Poor," and "Forgiveness." Garner's conviction is that the root of humanity's dysfunction is our failure to learn how to live together as male and female.

Reflections of Equality

Stanford University Press The book argues that the center of political modernity is determined by a conflictive relation between the liberal core concept of political equality and the idea of individuality.

Theological Reflection: Methods, 2nd Edition

Now firmly established as an essential text on theological reflection, this new edition has been revised and updated with a new introduction, updated examples, and refreshed bibliographies

"Pimp: Reflection of My Life "

(J.U.M.P. Interstate N Urban Legends)

Author House In our society today, although used out their original contexts, the words Pimp and Pimpin have been embraced whole-heartedly by todays hip hop generation and frequently used in slang to describe a motif of a newly set standard of flamboyant living. However, in his debut release, Donald Ray Lavan (AKA Noble Dee) provides the true definition of both words, separating the real and the facts from the faade and the fiction of todays controversial terminology. Best of all, he describes in very minute details, what the Game (Pimpin) was like for him in his era the 1960s to Y2K (The New Millenium). In this tell all non-fiction: Noble Dee illustrates, in a very blaxploitation mannerhis personal existence in the game. Not only does he exploit his successes, he also exposes the very grim details of the life; both in tones whereas you the reader bask in his glory, and share his pains; the pain of possibly regret in the life that he cherished for almost four calendar decades. Wholeheartedly, Noble Dee expresses how his own glorification of the game, indirectly allured his first born daughter into a position to be manipulated and exploited by pimps, just as he had manipulated and exploited so many daughters throughout his 35 years plus career. Not since Robert Beck revealed to the masses the vivid street Realities of a Pimps Life in his book Pimp: The Story of My Life By Iceberg Slim has the entrenching truth behind the lifestyle-termed pimpin been exposed to this degree. Thus, the primary title Pimp:Reflections of My Life. www.JumpInterstateN.biz

Its All in Your Mind

The Reflections of Life

Independently Published Everything concerning you starts in one place, not around the corner, or at the other end of the world. Everything concerning you is all in your mind. Believe in your heart that all things are possible, and it will be possible. You are no more or less than what you believe. Your life cannot surpass beyond what you believe. It is in the heart of our mind that all possibilities are created. The heart of the mind is where our defeats and victories originate from. Everything that we are or will ever be, will originate from for the heart of our mind. The mind is not just thoughts of pictures, forming into our awareness. The mind it is a creating force that forms substance into our life, according to our ability to imagine, what some call the impossible. The only thing that is impossible are the restrictions that we hold in our mind, that conflict with the barriers of our past learnings. We hold the keys to open every doors of opportunities and we also hold the keys to prison ourselves with the same keys. These keys are our belief system. "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" The word of God is the law of laws. His word has dominion over every existence in heaven and earth. If you believe this, you will begin to put on the image of God through the creation of his word. Every living being that believes the word of God, in their hearts is being formed after the image of God. The word of God is the nature of God, this is how we take on His images, through his words. When your heart is transformed it has a direct effect on our surroundings, circumstance and everything concerning you. Your life will also be transformed in accordance. When we truly believe in our heart, nothing can change that. When you have two people that are in love with each other, the whole world cannot persuade them otherwise. When you are in love, you will believe each other over everything else. This is the same type of faith we must place in the word of God. It is impossible for God to lie or fail. King Solomon once said, and I quote. "life and death are in the power of the tongue and they that use it will eat the fruits thereof". The tongue gets its power from our heart, just like the fruits of the earth which gets its life from the seed, hidden in the heart of the earth. In the depts of our heart is where our life resides. All of life achievements is in your mind, but only if you placed it there. Without the right thoughts, there can be no satisfying results following. We do not automatically have the keys to success, just as the earth does not automatically produce fruits. The seed of life must first be planted and remain. Like any seed, it must be nourished, and this nourishment comes by continually bringing it to mind. All things are possible in your mind, if this is so, then all things are possible in your life. First the seed then the fruits. First the desired thought the fruits of that thoughts. It is impossible for a seed to bring forth a different type of fruit other than what it is design for, just as it is impossible for you to have a miraculous life without the continual thoughts of success. According to your thoughts be it unto you. you must believe the spirit of thought that gives life over the effects of life. The cause is what makes life happens, not the effects of the cause. You cannot plant an apple seed and get oranges, no more than you can have a mind that is negative and receive positive results. To do this is to delude yourself. Why would you deceive yourself knowingly? your life reflects from you mind.

Reflections on the Works of God in Nature and Providence, for Every Day in the Year

Life on the Edge

Holy Saturday and the Recovery of the End Time

Wipf and Stock Publishers Is the Christian faith something that can peacefully exist alongside all the other aspects of an ordinary human life, or does it by its very nature turn that life into something else? The author of this book, a member of a monastic community for over forty years, obviously has a vested interest in the answer. But even for believers caught up in the day-to-day life of society, work, and family, the question is an important one, at least if they are seeking a measure of consistency in the life they are living. And does not the very fact that the question of the importance and urgency of faith needs to be asked witness to the eclipse of an eschatological outlook among Christians, at any rate in the mainstream Churches? Could this oversight not explain why an eschatological understanding of faith, one which sees it as a radical, world-changing reality, has been forced to take refuge, often deformed to the point of being unrecognizable, in small “fanatical” groups on the margins of the Christian world?

Crisis and Reflection

An Essay on Husserl's Crisis of the European Sciences

Springer Science & Business Media In his last work, "Crisis of the European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology", Edmund Husserl formulated a radical new approach to phenomenological philosophy. Unlike his previous works, in the "Crisis" Husserl embedded this formulation in an ambitious reflection on the essence and value of the idea of rational thought and culture, a reflection that he considered to be an urgent necessity in light of the political, social, and intellectual crisis of the interwar period. In this book, James Dodd pursues an interpretation of Husserl's text that emphasizes the importance of the problem of the origin of philosophy, as well as advances the thesis that, for Husserl, the "crisis of reason" is not a contingent historical event, but a permanent feature of a life in reason generally.
