What has made the difference?* Self-directed learning research and its impact on educational practice AOSIS This scholarly book is the third volume in an NWU book series on self-directed learning and is devoted to self-directed learning research and its impact on educational practice. The importance of self-directed learning for learners in the 21st century to equip themselves with the necessary skills to take responsibility for their own learning for life cannot be over emphasised. The target audience does not only consist of scholars in the field of self-directed learning in Higher Education and the Schooling sector but includes all scholars in the field of teaching and learning in all education and training sectors. The book contributes to the discourse on creating dispositions towards self-directed learning among all learners and adds to the latest body of scholarship in terms of self-directed learning. Although from different perspectives, all chapters in the book are closely linked together around self-directed learning as a central theme, following on the work done in Volume 1 of this series (Self-Directed Learning for the 21st Century: Implications for Higher Education) to form a rich knowledge bank of work on self-directed learning. Implementing Inclusive Education A Commonwealth Guide to Implementing Article 24 of the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities Commonwealth Secretariat This revised and expanded second edition of Implementing Inclusive Education shows how Commonwealth countries are attempting to undertake inclusion in education, and will encourage all those charged with ensuring education for all to make certain that disabled children are fully included in all aspects of the education system. Open Educational Resources Conversations in Cyberspace United Nations Educational Education systems today face two major challenges: expanding the reach of education and improving its quality. Traditional solutions will not suffice, especially in the context of today's knowledge-intensive societies. The Open Educational Resources movement offers one solution for extending the reach of education and expanding learning opportunities. The goal of the movement is to equalise access to knowledge worldwide through openly and freely available online high-quality content. UNESCO has contributed to building global awareness about Open Educational Resources, through facilitating an extended conversation in cyberspace. Over the course of two years, a large and diverse international community came together in a series of online discussion forums to discuss the concept of Open Educational Resources and its potential. In making the background papers and reports from those discussions available for the first time in print, this publication seeks to share even more widely the contributions made by so many. It is intended for all who may be intrigued by the Open Educational Resources movement - its promise and its progress. Anti-bias Education for Young Children and Ourselves Become a skilled anti-bias teacher with this practical guidance to confronting and eliminating barriers. Interim Policy for Early Childhood Development South African national bibliography Classified list with author and title index. My Children! a black township youth and his "old-fashioned" black teacher. Improving early childhood development WHO guideline World Health Organization Enabling young children to achieve their full developmental potential is a human right and an essential requisite for sustainable development. Given the critical importance of enabling children to make the best start in life, the health sector, among other sectors, has an important role and responsibility to support nurturing care for early childhood development. This guideline provides direction for strengthening policies and programmes to better address early childhood development. It is primarily the family who provides the nurturing care that children need to develop in the earliest years. Many parents and other caregivers need support to put this into practice. Therefore, the guideline contains four recommendations aimed at caregivers, health professionals and other workers who can assist them, as well as policy-makers and other stakeholders. The recommendations relate to i) providing responsive care and activities for early learning during the first 3 years of life; ii) including responsive care and early learning as part of interventions for optimal nutrition of infants and young children; and iii) integrating psychosocial interventions to support maternal mental health into early childhood health and development services. Curriculum Implementation A Resource Booklet Ontario Ministry of Education Study and Master Life Sciences Grade 11 CAPS Study Guide The Constitution of the Republic of South Africa 1996 As Adopted on 8 May 1996 and Amended on 11 October 1996 Study and Master Geography Grade 10 CAPS Study Guide Non-formal Education and Basic Education Reform A Conceptual Review There is growing recognition that non-formal education (NFE) can play an important role in providing basic education for disadvantaged children and young people. However, development agencies and governments face difficult questions about how to manage the relationship between NFE and the formal education system. This paper offers strategies to support and expand the provision of quality non-formal basic education without compromising its innovation and responsiveness to the needs of different groups. The paper first provides an overview of the history of debates, ideological perspectives and practice in NFE, and outlines key areas of relationships between NFE and the education field as a whole. It draws on examples from Mali, Mexico, Tanzania, India, Namibia, Burkina Faso, Trinidad and Tobago, Somaliland, Brazil, South Africa and the Latin American Fey y Alegria (Faith and Joy) movement. Essentials of Educational Measurement Prentice Hall Focus on South Africa Gareth Stevens Publishing LLLP An overview of South Africa covers its history, geography, climate, culture, government, and economy. Special Needs Education Building an Inclusive Education and Training System Curriculum and Assessment Greenwood Publishing Group Examines the relationship between curriculum and assessment and provides a critical commentary on current policy initiatives in this field. Love, David Dutton Juvenile Anna watches as her older brother upsets the family by involving himself in illegal activities to escape from the poverty of his home life in South Africa. Nutrition and Exercise Strong, Healthy Girls This title takes a look at the importance of keeping active and eating a balanced diet.
